GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp; and if issued after the 30 h of June, 1864 and used without a stamp, it cannot be afterwards effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument to appropriately stamp it renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original processes, severally require stamps.

Writs of reire facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificate of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid or deposited, or like certificates are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be fixed a stamp or stamps

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and canceled by any one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case, a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

The Habeas Corpus.

We gave, on yesterday, a brief account of the progress of the suit of Maj. Gee for the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, before Judge Fowle, as far as it has gone. The serious import of these proceedings, and the absence of any official interpretation of the effect and design of President Johnson's late Proclamation, except a decision of Judge Underwood, in Virginia, which only affected, directly, the power of the Freedmen's Bureau, fully justify Judge Fowle in claiming time to consider it. The known incompetency of Judge Underwood, who can hardly claim, from all accounts, to be a good forty-shilling lawyer, and the singular grounds taken by him for his position, could scarcely decide anything to the satisfaction of jurists, who have regard to their own reputation and the interests of truth and justice. Several days must therefore elapse before a decision will be made.

Moreover, a hasty decision would bring the civil and military authorities directly in collision. Gen. Ruger, viewing his responsibilities in the case simply as a soldier, of course cannot surrender the prisoner at the bidding of the writ, in the absence of orders from his chief to that effect; while Judge Fowle, looking at his responsibilities in the premises, and taking for his guide those sound rules of construction which prevail in our courts, cannot but demand the surrender of the prisoner to the superior claims of the civil law, under the manifest and most ordinary construction of the President's Proclamation, i. e. that it remits the States announced by the President to be at peace with the government to their orignal rights and immunities, and by consequence revives and restores the habeas corpus in all cases.

The shallow plea of Judge Underwood, that the effect claimed for the Proclamation by the advocates of the restoration of habeas corpus cannot be correct, because Texas is omitted in the Proclamation, cannot, we think, be for a moment tolerated, although the practice in Tennessee, under a previous proclamation, not so the last, may afford some shadow for his position. But the designation of all the States, except Texas, as being no longer in a state of insurrection, but peaceably and quietly submitting, in all respects, not in theory only, but in practice, to the full exercise and control of the Constitution and laws of the United States, puts the question at rest, and, to our mind, forbids a recourse to any future exposition or coloring antagonistic to the legitimate and full restoration of those States. Such must be the effect, whether we confine ourselves to the clear and definite phraseology of President Johnson's proclamation, or to the well defined policy of President Lincoln, as set forth in his messages and proclamations, or to the entire practice of the government.

In taking this position, President Johnson is fully sustained, not only by the policy of his predecessor and those sound principles of government derived from the letter and general spirit of the Constitution, but by the refusal or delays of Congress to adopt promptly, as it denies the President's power in the premises, any plan of reconstruction. It was the only method left him to bring the question, constantly accumulating in its vexations by delay, to the decision of an arbitrament, which the Congress itelf must respect. The Congress, by its action, ignores and degrades the legitimate powers of the Executive. The only peaceable mode left him, of bringing the question to a decision, is to place it within the purview and jurisdiction of the Judiciary, the great constitutional umpire in the Republic, for final adjustment. Hence, in the proclamation, the President lays down the question in general principles, which should in the present posture of affairs be interpreted and settled by the Judiciary.

Judge Fowle's decision, therefore, when it is made, must be adverse to the pretensions of the military, unless a different interpretation to the one his legal mind and intelligence will force him to adopt comes from the President himself.

We are justified in believing, and stating, that the Civil authority of the State will adopt prompt measures to afford the Judiciary such moral support as will enable Judge Fowle to meet the case fully and satisfactorily. The President will doubtless be called upon to interpret the document, or to shed such light upon the subject as to remove all difficulty from the case.

UNIVERSITY OF N. C.—The article of "Elttab" will appear in a few days. Meanwhile, we glean, from his letter, the following items of news:

Hon. Gustavus A. Henry, of Tennessee, has been invited by the Philanthropic Society to deliver the annual address before the two Literary Societies in June. It is confidently believed that he will accept.

Judge Battle has ten law students, not connected with the College.

The young men are making every arrangement for a brilliant Commencement, and anticipate a large attendance of visitors. We hope that their expectations will be realized.

Test Case under the Civil Rights Bill.

A dispatch from Lafayette, Indiana, announces the first case involving the test of the Civil Rights bill, as follows:

A colored man named Barnes brought suit against a prominent citizen to enforce a contract. The defendant, for an answer, set up that the negro came into the State in violation of the 13th article of the Constitution of the State of Indiana, which, under pains and penalties, prohibits negroes from coming into the State, and debars them from all rights to enforce contracts, etc.

The plaintiff demurred to the answer, maintaining that the 13th. article is void and of no effect, because: 1. It is in contravention of the letter and spirit of the constitution of the United States. 2. It is in direct conflict with the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery. 3. It is void under the first section of the Civil Rights bill, which gives to all persons born in the United States full right to make and enforce contracts, any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

The first two points of the demurrer are not worth consideration. The statute of Indiana has been in the Code of that State from time immemorial, and its conflict with the Constitution of the United States has never been suggested heretofore. And the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery simply abrogates servitude, and prohibits its re-establishment.

The third point will be sustained by the Court, for the reason that an adverse decision will subject the Judge, under the second section of the Civil Rights Bill, to a penalty of $1000 fine and imprisonment. But it by no means follows, therefore, that the 13th article of the Indiana Constitution is "void." An appeal will doubtless be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, and we feel sure that that tribunal, notwithstanding the radical proclivities of Chase and his late extra judicial opinion, will hold the Civil Rights Bill to be unconstitutional. We are glad that this test-case has been originated in Indiana. It will thus go before the highest tribunal in the land, untrammelled by any of the prejudices which would attach to a similar case emanating from one of the Southern States.

"The President has no doubt intimated his purpose to release Jefferson Davis on parole, as neither Congress nor the United States Supreme Court will take any measures for his trial. He has taken care that his position on the subject should be understood. It cannot be doubted that the President will soon follow up his peace proclamation with an extension of amnesty to some classes heretofore excepted from it. He has conferred with General Grant and Mr. Seward on this subject. They are believed to favor this policy."

The President, by such a course as is intimated in the foregoing extract from the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Sun, would add the finishing touch to his great work of pacification. He has already pardoned by far the greater number of the participants in the revolt, and many of them, among its most active and prominent abettors. He has, also, recently declared the States, themselves, purged of all offence. Mr. Davis, it is well known, was among the last of the Senators to withdraw from the Congress of 1860-1. In doing so, he but did what others did, i. e. obeyed the imperative commands of his State. The fact that he was the highest officer in the late Confederacy but made him the more completely the servant of that people, who have been exonerated from the consequences of their course. Mr. Davis committed grave errors in the course of his Administration; but no one can justly impugn the sincerity of his motives, his conscientious pursuit of duty, as he understood it, or the lofty integrity of his private character.

However much we may have disapproved of some of Mr. Davis' official acts, we shall never be so lost to all sense of honor or decency as to speak of them in his hour of adversity. We are satisfied that his judgment was honest and his intentions pure; we all assisted to place him in his position of responsibility and peril, and we are, on that very account, as worthy of stripes, —where stripes are to be inflicted,—as himself.

Methodist General Conference.

The New Orleans correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer and Sentinel gives the proceedings of this body for the 4th day. We compile from it.

The division of the Alabama Conference, which was effected during the war, into the Mobile and Montgomery Conferences, was approved upon the recommendation of the committee on the Itinerancy.

Quite a number of memorials from the South Western Conferences were presented, praying important changes in the economy of the Church.

After considerable debate a special committee, composed of one member from each Conference, called "Committee on changes of economy," was appointed to whom the entire subject was referred.

Among other memorials, one was received from Missouri, praying that a rule be made forbidding the introduction and discussion of partizan politics in the pulpits.

A telegram was received from the East New York Conference, then in session, proposing to the General Conference to engage with them in prayer the next day, for the peace and unity of the country and the full restoration of christian sympathy and love between the Churches.

The General Conference responded handsomely and agreed to the proposition. Drs. Marshall, of Miss., Smith, of Va., and Deems, of N. C., advocated eloquently the responsive preamble and resolution.

The President has officially informed the House, that a naval force will be sent to protect the fishermen on the northern coast, now that the Reciprocity Treaty between the British Provinces and the United States has been abrogated.

We had the pleasure of a visit, on Saturday, from Capt. Waring, of the Charlotte Times. The Capt. looks well, and we are pleased to learn that his journal is in a flourishing condition.

Charles Moore, sentenced by a Military Commission at Pulaski, Tennessee, last year, to be hung for murder, but whose sentence was commuted to two years' imprisonment, was released by order of General Thomas on the ninth instant.—New York Herald.

As neither Gen. Thomas nor any other Military Commander has the right to pardon a person convicted by a military tribunal, it is presumable, of course, that he released this party either in accordance with the recent decision of the Supreme Court, or, more probably, in obedience to the Proclamation of the President.—It will be remembered that the President, on the 13th of June last, issued his Proclamation declaring the "insurrection" to be at an end in the State of Tennessee. That Proclamation, however, was not so explicit as the recent general Proclamation, in developing the object and effect of the declaration that a state of peace existed. Placing, as we think, the proper construction upon the Proclamation, Gen. Thomas has accordingly released this citizen, who had been improperly tried by the military authorities.

It is not probable, from Gen. Thomas' antecedents, that he would force a construction favorable to the demands of magnanimity or clemency. There are other Department Commanders, however, who are, we believe, more charitably and leniently inclined, and we should be pleased to see them "go and do likewise."

The City Charter.

Messrs. Editors: I see you are disinclined to vote for the new charter of the City of Raleigh, and as I hear there is some opposition to it in the community, I propose to give a truthful statement of the changes made in the old charter, so that the people may know how to vote.

I think it exceedingly important that the new charter shall be adopted. The passage of the Civil Rights Bill, it is contended, will, under the present charter, confer powers of suffrage on a class of our inhabitants, never before claimed. This should be settled as soon as possible. It will be dangerous to delay until the General Assembly meets. Before November next, a law may pass Congress to prevent a State abridging any right, civil or political, enjoyed by any citizen of the United States. I do not desire to have the question open so long. I do not like to live ten months under a charter, which, it can be claimed, is even doubtful, on this subject. In my opinion, it is not doubtful. It can be made certain, by accepting the proposed instrument. Why not accept it?

It is said the powers conferred on the Commissioners, by the new charter, are too great.—Grant it. The General Assembly, at its next session, can amend the charter and lower the limit of taxation. The Commissioners will agree to this. They do not particularly care, I am informed, for the increased authority. I have no doubt, they will recommend the Assembly to restore the old rates of taxation, if the people desire it.

Why is a new charter desirable?

When Sherman's army was in Raleigh, his soldiers ransacked the Mayor's office, destroyed the records, and, among them, nearly all the copies of the charter. It becomes necessary to have a reprint.

The present charter, with its amendments, is, if possible, in a worse situation than the Constitution of North Carolina When it was before the General Assembly of 1856–7, having been carefully drawn by an eminent lawyer, (B. F. Moore, Esq.,) section 87 was attached, without regarding the previous provisions, so that, by one section, each ward elected its own commissioners, and, by another, the commissioners were to be elected en masse by all the voters. By one section, the city Constable was to be chosen by the commissioners; by the last in the charter, to be elected by the people. This "fifth wheel" section has always been disregarded, as being a nullity.

In 1862 it became necessary to increase the powers of taxation, and the old maximum of taxes was doubled. Various other amendments were made, providing a convenient mode of opening new streets, of selling land for taxes, giving the commissioners power to prevent fast riding through the streets, firing of guns, preventing dangerous trades being carried on in the city, &c., &c. Now, this act of 1862–3 does not smell of war or treason in the slightest degree, and hence has been made valid by the Convention. Therefore, the charter, as amended, is in a very awkward situation. Sections 24, 61, 63, 65, 87 and part of 45, also, 50, 51 and 52 have been repealed. Others have been added.

Besides, slavery no longer exists, and, therefore, the clauses relating to slaves should be stricken out.

Being obliged to have printed new copies of the charter and amendments, the commissioners wisely, as I think, requested the city attorney to consolidate the old charter and the amendments, to strike out obsolete clauses, and prepare, to be offered to the Assembly, a new and compact instrument.

Now, in doing this, the Commissioners had not the slightest intention to acquire any extraordinary powers. The maximum of taxes on a few subjects was raised a little, but generally was left unchanged. Some alterations were made which experience has suggested as proper, and the instrument made to express plainly what no doubt was the intent of the law makers in 1856.

I will proceed to point out a few of these changes.

Taxes: the commissioners are authorised, by the proposed charter, if necessary, to tax real estate as high as $1½ on $100 value. The present limit is $1.

On polls the limit is the same as before.

On merchandise, the limit is 25 cts on $100 value, instead of 20 cts. The proposed charter also authorises them to go higher on purchases of liquors—not exceeding 5 per cent.

On vehicles the limit is unchanged,

On drays and carriages for hire, $25 instead of $20. They are authorised also to tax Express wagons like drays.

On swine, goats, encroachments on streets, restaurants, the limit is unchanged.

On peddlers, circuses, rope dancing &c., it has been slightly increased,

For license to retail spirituous liquors, they may go as high as $500, instead of $100, but this is a small matter, as they have power to prohibit retailing, altogether.

Now the above statement does not show a very formidable increase of power. I venture to say the limit of taxation is less than any other city in the land, of the importance of Raleigh. Some cities have no limit at all.

Although Raleigh has not much trade, yet it is the Capital. Its streets should be lighted on dark nights. From its accessible position, many rowdy characters frequent it and we should have a good police. I cannot understand this talk about high power of taxation. We send, without dread, members to the Assembly, who are not bound by any limit. We have annual elections, and can, if we choose, elect cheap men and turn out extravagant officers. The people have the matter in their own hands. The Commissioners are not bound to tax as high as the limit; in fact, they very seldom have gone as high as the law allowed.

I will mention one or two facts to show that the Commissioners do not abuse their powers. By the charter of 1856, the power of taxing merchandise was almost unlimited, probably by mistake of the Engrossing Clerk. The Commissioners had power to leavy as high as ten per cent. of all goods, wares and merchandise purchased for re-sale in the city, but this power was never exerted, and I venture to say few merchants were aware when the law was changed in 1862, to 20 cents on $100 value. Again in 1851, 1st Extra Session, the Commissioners were authorized to tax without limit all subjects taxed under the State Revenue act. This law continued in existence all through the war, yet these extraordinary and unlimited powers were never exercised at all.

Messrs. Editors, I do not think this carping at our City officers is right. They are respectable men; they were elected by us. They own property as we do; their interests are identical with ours. They serve without reward or hope of reward. They cannot tax the people of Raleigh, without taxing themselves. I have attended their meetings, and I know they try to do what is best for the interests of the City. They have a hard task to perform. Within the last twelve months, think what scenes Raleigh has witnessed. Think of the advance and retreat of Johnson's army through our streets, of the heavy tread of Sherman's hundred thousand men, of the flocking here of people of all conditions and colors. Think how hard it is to preserve order between citizens and soldiers at all times; how few robberies have been committed here, compared to what we had a right to expect, under the circumstances of the times, and, perhaps, you will conclude with me, that our Mayor, Commissioners, and their officers of police, have acted with vigilance and remarkable prudence. Monument to Ex-Gov. Holden and the "Daily Standard."

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Carlyle says: "At St. Ives," in Huntingdonshire, where Oliver Cromwell resided for some years, the people determined to attempt some kind of memorial to that memorable character. A county paper recommended a People's Statue of this great Oliver—to be furnished by universal contribution from the people."

Now we don't want any brass or stone acknowledgment of Mr. Holden; but we propose to agitate the question among the people, shall he have a statue? And why not? Some will say he does not deserve it. Others will say he is not yet dead, and it is time enough, after he is dead, to agitate the question of a monument.

Well that reason applies to him, but not to his paper, for the Daily Standard is dead. It was in a state of progressive dissolution from the day the Federal armies were withdrawn from Raleigh, until the day of its final decease. That day the people stopped short in their admiration for the Daily Standard, and the number of subscribers greatly diminished. I say it, at the risk of being thought disloyal, I am against a monument to the Daily. Let it be silently buried, without mark or monument, for it was that rash, inconsiderate sheet that defeated the late Governor Holden. Yes, I can demonstrate this fact to the plainest understanding in the State, except that of Joseph Holden and Joseph Cannon!

In truth, the Daily was built of rotten timber, grown in Massachusetts. Our people could not sail in such a ship, and they would not. In fact, the whole Standard has sprung a leak, since the Editor took out his negro plank and put in Massachusetts timber. In spite of all hands at the pump, the water's rising. The ship will founder if they don't stop the leak.—The water rose so fast that Joe Cannon quit the ship, and the Ex-Governor is now at the pump, working for life and calling for help "out of the State." Well, the more help he gets in Massachusetts, the less he gets at home. The people have admonished him that he would not do for Governor. Now, he is obedient to the people, though I admit he has talked a little rebellious sometimes.

It is true he engaged in the rash enterprise of the Daily Standard. A gentle admonition from the people, and he desists from the Daily and retires to the Tri-Weekly, which is not so deleterious to the people by one third.

Now this—is it not?—is a plain arithmetical calculation, which all the people understand, except two, to wit: the Editors of the daily during the days of our provisionalism.

I know some people look upon Governor Holden, so-called, not as "a dead duck," but as a broken-winged, self-strangled duck, a mass of incoherent political incredibilities.

Such will have no concern with the monument. Well, they are wrong. I know it would not profit the people to have such a political hero set up for their admiration, for their imitation or emulation. If statues and monuments are erected to tell the people whom to honor and whom to admire, why not columns to tell the people whom not to honor—whom not to admire. Now I wish to raise a column of the Sentinel to Mr. Holden—the column to be filled with quotations from the Standard, on the men and measures of his day and time. It is to be a popular move, and the people are requested to send in their contributions to the column.

We want no brazen metal. Mr. Holden's work and words to destroy the union and the people of North Carolina go through so many years and so many numbers of the Standard, that posterity will never know it, unless his sayings and doings can be collected in one column, when the people can at all times read them and think of them with just abhorrence.

Now, Messrs. Editors, we call upon you to forgive Mr. Holden. Lay aside your envy, malice and all uncharitable feeling towards him, and consecrate and set apart one column of your paper, for his sayings and doings upon the men and measures of his day, as furnished by the voluntary contributions of the people, and thus we will have, not a statue, but a high raised column—a column to admonish the people they should not try to imitate him.

P. E. C.

The Nigger Bureau.

How stupid it seems to keep repeating that the Nigger Bureau does more harm than good! Yet it is a truth that must prevail at last. A gentleman who has recently taken an extensive tour through Alabama reports that there is not one agent of the Bureau between the Cahaba and the Warrior rivers. This extensive region of that State is crowded with negroes, and all their difficulties with the whites are referred to the courts of Alabama, to mutual satisfaction. Everything goes on with amazing quietness and order. There are none of the vexations, complications and envenomed quarrels that are frequent in those localities dominated by the Bureau. The whites are more kind and considerate, the blacks are more respectful and industrious, than elsewhere. This is another proof of what we have often declared before—that the Freedmen's Bureau is not at all needed in the South to protect the negro in his just rights. —Richmond Whig.

The President has signed the loan bill.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The following beautiful verses are the heart warblings of a gifted lady friend, on the death of one whom she dearly loved. There is a charming melody and music in the song, which will touch the hearts of many who cherish the memory of their lost ones. We have heard that the writer has many poetical effusions locked up in her portfolio, which ought to be published. If this, and another which we have read, be fair specimens of these poetical treasures, we are sure that they should no longer be hid. Such lights should not be kept under a bushel. H.

The Wall Flower.

I love the Wall Flower—it is dearer to me
Than glittering gems, or pearls of the sea:
Around its soft petals sweet memories fall,
As the dew-drops that weep on the Ivy green wall.

It tells of the dear one whose pattering feet
Oft hied with this blossom my presence to greet,
When early in Spring, half hid in her shawl,
She sought its first budding beside the Stone wall.

Entwined mid the tresses of light golden hair,
Her brow, by its blushes, was rendered more fair;
Its fragrance was wafted, through bower and hall,
As it "played with her shadow" upon the Home wall.

But "life's cherished idols are marked with decay"—
This child of sweet promise soon faded away;
Her parting memento, we fondly recall,
Was her favorite flower that grew by the wall.

Her young heart was laved in a fountain of love,
And a new harp was strung in the City above—
Her last whispered accents in soft echoes fall:
"We'll all meet again in the Beautiful Wall."

The fingers of love dropped a wreath on her bier,
And its petals were wet with the penitent's tear;
The flight of her soul seemed a Heavenly call,
And it hushed the loud wail in the Family Wall.

"Be still, my sad heart!" for she peacefully sleeps,
Beneath a green mound where the light willow weeps;
And the bright flowers of Hope make bright the dark pall
That mournfully hangs o'er the Sepulchral wall.

When weary with counting the joys that have died,
And weary of laying bright visions aside;
When my heart is oppressed, and its burdens enthrall,
Then I lean upon Christ, the "Chief Stone in the Wall."

Further Testimony from General Lee Before the Reconstruction Committee.

I am sorry to observe a disposition on the part of the Reconstruction Committee to suppress, in the pretended publication of General Lee's testimony, the most important part of that distinguished officer's examination. I violate no confidence in giving it as follows:

Q.—What kind of shirts did you wear during the war?

A.—Calico sometimes, and sometimes woolen.

Q.—You are married, are you not?

A.—Yes, I am.

Q.—Don't you know that the ladies of the South formed a secret cabal for the wearing of gray petticoats during the war?

A.—I do not.

Q.—Don't you think they wore more gray than blue in the article of clothing to which we refer?

A.—I do not know. Never investigated that subject.

Q.—Is it true that the women of the South wear Jeff Davis' picture in their bosoms?

A.—I never took notice. Should not be surprised if some of them did.

Q.—Do you think a Freedmen's Bureau agent would be allowed to marry into a first family of Virginia?

A.—If a young lady belonging to a first family were willing, I suppose he could.

Q.—How long will it be before pumpkin pies become a favorite dish in the lately rebellious districts?

A.—I do not know. Some people like them now.

Q.—Is there not a great aversion to codfish, as a Yankee staple of diet?

A.—I do not know that there is.

Q.—Do they like pork and beans in Virginia?

A.—Some people do.

Q.—What's your opinion of the Fenians?

A.—I have not given the subject much attention.

Q.—How are you on Schleswig-Holstein?

A.—I have not made up my mind on that subject either.

Q.—Which side do you sleep on?

A.—The right side generally.

Q.—Do Southern men generally continue to sleep in arms, notwithstanding the cessation of the rebellion?

A.—Those who are married do, I believe.

Q.—Do those who are not married abstain from doing so?

A.—I can't say they all do.

There are other important parts of General Lee's testimony not yet published by the Committee on Reconstruction. I trust I have given enough to show, when contrasted with what has heretofore been given to the public, that the most significant portions of the examination—those bearing most directly on the great problem of reconstruction—are wilfully suppressed.—Washington correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.

THE STATES WHERE NEGROES VOTE.—The Albany Argus, in a comprehensive statement of the existing condition of this question in different States, denies the truth of a statement lately made by a Worcester paper, that negroes vote in Massachusetts on paying a poll tax.

There are only two States in the Union where the negro is allowed to vote without property qualification. They are Vermont and New Hampshire, the former of which has eighty negro voters, and the latter one hundred and ninety.

In Massachusetts every voter must, within two years, have paid a State or county tax, unless excused from taxation.

In Rhode Island, a voter must own real estate of one hundred and thirty-four dollars value, or of the clear yearly value of seven dollars over any ground rent.

A colored person is not allowed to vote in New York unless he has resided in the State three years, and is a freeholder in value of two hundred and fifty dollars, and paid taxes thereon.

Massachusetts, which does not at home allow any man to vote who has not paid a State or county tax directly, for they all pay it indirectly, is very desirous that the Southern States shall allow negroes to vote without such discrimination. She goes in for universal black suffrage at the South, while denying it to her poor whites at home. This is Massachusetts philanthropy, or preference for negro to white.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday, April 17, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Madison Rann has "fixed up" the Mineral Spring and gounds, in the suburbs, formerly owned by Mr. Kirkham. This water, in our judgment, possesses fine medicinal and health-giving properties; and we are glad to see that the Spring has been put in order.

Messrs. Davis and Jones offer Lard, Bacon, Flour and Sugar-House Molasses for sale, in large quantities.

MADAME POZZONI'S CONCERT did not come off, last night, on account of the inclemency of the weather. It will take place to-night.

TRIAL OF MAJ. JOHN H. GEE.—The Commission met yesterday, but, owing to the absence of the President, Col. Wheeler, there was no further examination of witnesses.

After some discussion as to the propriety of so doing, the record of the proceedings on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week was read, and the Commission adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning.

The defense have on hand a large number of witnesses, and are anxious to have the trial progress rapidly, but are fast learning to practice that admirable virtue, patience.

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.—The religious interest in the Baptist Church, of this city, continues.—Up to this writing, 25 white persons have been received into the Church by baptism.

We also learn that about 40 colored persons, the fruits of revival, were immersed on Sabbath last, in Walnut creek.

The Quarterly Meeting at the Methodist Church was well attended and general seriousness prevailed. Rev. J. A. Cuninggim, of Louisburg, assisted the pastor. His sermons have been impressive, able and full of unction. We trust the good work will speed in all the Churches and be lasting in its effects—otherwise, the labor will have been in vain.

"DEATH OF A FRIEND."—We are pained to record the death of one of the few friends of our youth that remained. A friend at Wilmington sent us, on yesterday, the following telegram:

"Rev. D. B. NICHOLSON died on yesterday at his home in Magnolia."

Mr. Nicholson, at the time of his death, was a member of the State Convention from the county of Duplin, and the presiding Elder of the Newbern District. We have known him intimately for thirty years. He was an honest man, true as steel, a gentleman and a Christian Few men have attained position and influence, and maintained them to the last, more worthily, whose early advantages were not more favorable. His memory will be sweet among his numerous friends as long as life lasts, and to none more than to the writer of this brief notice. Best of all, he has fallen asleep in Jesus.

THE WAY THEY LIVE IN NEWBERN.—The following description of the markets of our sister City is calculated to make one [illegible]—especially one who visits our own markets now-a-days. Think of such luxuries, in contrast with blue beef and ancient fowls, at fabulous prices:

"Our market this morning presented an unusually inviting appearance, and among the thousand and one good things on exhibition, was an immense number and size of Drum fish. We noticed two boats, which, alone, must have had two or three hundred of this variety, measuring in length from one to four feet, and weighing from three to forty pounds each. We counted some four or five of the largest, which ranged from three to four feet in length, and weighed from twenty-five to forty pounds. Besides other varieties of fish in endless quantity, and oysters in abundance, there was a great variety of vegetables, fresh meats, poultry, &c."

We are not "fishing" for anything; but some of our Athenian friends might do an act of charity. Verb. sap.

FORSYTHE SUPERIOR COURT.—This tribunal was in session last week, his Honor, Judge Gilliam, presiding. Anderson Taylor and Jeremiah Glover were convicted of horse-stealing and received "thirty" and "twenty" respectively. Capt. R. E. Wilson was arraigned for murder on three bills of indictment; and the trial was removed to Rockingham Co., bail in the sum of $10,000 being required in each case.—Wm. Henshaw was also arraigned for murder, but permitted to give bail in the same sum for his appearance at next term of Court.

ANOTHER ARREST.—We learn, from the News, that Dr. Jno. W. Davis, of Goldsboro', was arrested, a few days since, by the Federal authorities, and ordered to report at headquarters in Raleigh, N. C. He reported, and learned that he was not the party sought. While this relieved him from the disagreeable position of a prisoner, it did not put back into his pocket, says the News, the dollars and cents expended for himself and lawyer.

THE GALLANT DEAD.—The remains of Sergt. Maj. Robt. McRee, late of the 3rd. N. C. Infantry, and son of Dr. F. P. McRee, Jr., of Wilmington, who was killed at Spottsylvania C. H., have arrived in Wilmington.

The remains of Junius C. and W. S. Battle, sons of the Hon. William H. Battle, who fell at Sharpsburg and Gettysburg, respectively, will be removed to Chapel Hill, for re-interment, in a few days.

Thus, one by one, North Carolina is gathering her jewels to her bosom.

ARRIVALS.—The steamship Cumberland arrived here yesterday afternoon from New York to Messrs. Worth & Daniel, agents, with full freights. Although business appears dull, there must be something in the way of trade, or else the many lines of steamships which ply between here and New York could not survive.—Wil. Journal.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—We learn, from the Wilmington Dispatch, that, on Friday last, the tug Alpha No. 2, while endeavoring to raise the transport Thorn, which had been sunk, was blown to atoms by the explosion of one of her boilers, and Harry Crosby, a colored engineer, was instantly killed, and James Harris, (colored,) fireman, mortally injured.

When the accident occurred, James Orrell, of Wilmington, Chas. Baily, of Maine, John Williams, of Newburyport, Mass., John Spates, of Baltimore, Maryland, and Captain Jere. Wagner of Troy, N. Y., officers and white seamen of the Alpha, were at dinner below, and all received slight injuries from the explosion.

Retirement of an Editor.

Nat. Tyler, one of the editors of the Richmond Enquirer, takes his leave of that paper in the following manner:

"On yesterday I received an "order," by command of Major General Turner, to "forward by mail or carrier to Major General Terry, commanding the Department of Virginia, a copy of each issue of The Richmond Enquirer on the day of the publication of the same." "Each issue" of The Enquirer is my private property, and should be paid for by those who desire to read it. If I do not comply with this order my paper will be suppressed; if I do comply with it, my property is taken from me without compensation. I know of no right of law under which Lieutenant General Grant, or Major General Terry, or Brigadier General Turner, has the right to direct that copies of newspapers shall be sent to their headquarters. As soon, therefore, as I read the late order of General Grant, I determined that I would no longer remain connected with the press—where neither its liberty nor its property were safe from General orders. A week's absence from the city has prevented the announcement of my retiring. Hoping that the days of "General Orders" will soon pass away, I close my connection with The Enquirer, wishing its readers a speedy return of the happy day and prosperous country which we all enjoyed when that connection began."

GENERAL NEWS.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—SENATE.—Mr. Morril gave notice that he would at an early day bring in a bill to establish negro suffrage in the District of Columbia.

HOUSE.—The House adopted a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire and report what legislation is necessary to prevent the introduction of cholera into the ports of the United States.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Hon. Daniel S. Dickenson died last night at the residence of S. G. Courtney, his brother-in-law, of strangulated hernia. He was down town yesterday attending to business.

Hugh Ewing, late Brevet Major General United States Volunteers, has written a letter to the Governor of Mississippi, offering to return some volumes belonging to the State Library which "came into his possession" while he was down among the cotton fields. He proposes to send them back by Adams & Co.'s Express, whereupon the Mobile Register commends his example and says:

If it should be generally followed, "Adams & Co.'s Express" would do "a custom-house business" in bringing home all the piano-fortes, books, pictures, watches, jewelry and "silver-spoons" which were eloigned in the process of crushing out the rebellion. We wonder if even "the beast" would not strain a point in his natural character and disgorge. We should like to see the inventory of his personal confiscations.

THE KENTUCKY DUEL.—The Frankfort Yeoman contains the following account of the late Kentucky duel: "Yesterday morning, at 6 o'clock, a duel was fought upon the farm of James K. Duke, Esq., of Scott county, between Captain Joe Desha, late of the Confederate army, and Capt. Alexander Kimbrough, of the Federal army, in which the latter was severely wounded above the hip; the former was shot through the coat. Distance ten paces; weapon, the ordinary dueling pistols. Two shots were exchanged. They were seconded by Major McDowell, of Cynthiana, and Captain Long, of Covington." The difficulty was relative to a private matter, which had no connection with politics.

SUCCESS OF THE DEMOCRATS IN NEW JERSEY.—William Corwin, Democrat, was elected Mayor of Lambertsville, New Jersey, on the 10th, by sixty-eight majority—a Democratic gain of sixty-six. The insult put upon New Jersey by the expulsion of Senator Stockton has infused fresh life into the Democracy, and the results are seen in all parts of the State at the recent election.

General Grant appeared before Justice Walter in Washington, on Wednesday, and paid the fine imposed on him for fast driving on Saturday last.

Hyde, the Mormon, was refused a legal divorce in England on the ground that a Mormon marriage is no marriage at all.

General Thomas Francis Meagher, acting Governor of Montana, has recanted his radical opinions and come out for President Johnson.

In the confusion consequent on the flare-up between the Richmond papers and the printers, the Examiner spells the word "public," in one instance, without a k.

Orders were long ago issued for the preservation of neutrality on the northern border, in view of the Fenian agitation.

In terms of righteous indignation the Chronicle of Thursday announces that Mr. Seward has notified Forney to discontinue "the Chronicle furnished for legations."

The following is the preamble of the New Constitution of Texas:

"We, the people of Texas, acknowledging with gratitude the grace of God in permitting us to make choice of our form of government, do ordain and establish this Constitution."

Forney, of the Washington Chronicle, (with a wholesome fear of what he may yet come to,) approves the interference of General Sickles with the laws of South Carolina. He does not think a horse thief or a common rogue should be subjected to the infamous punishment of the lash. A man who has "conveyed" as much, and as often, as Forney, might well be expected to object to a penalty that his own deserts demand.

MONUMENT TO THE ALABAMA HEROES.—It is in contemplation by the citizens of Alabama to erect a monument in memory of the soldiers of that State who died during the late war. It is to be erected on Capitol square, in Montgomery, and in point of finish and design it will be alike an honor to the dead and living heroes of the war.

The correspondent of the Argus writes that the battle ground of Shiloh is strewed with the bones of the Confederate dead. Hundreds have been rooted about by hogs, and few appear to have ever been properly buried. It is a horrible picture. Trees are deadened by bullet and shell.

The New York Tribune mentions an act of diabolical inhumanity recently perpetrated by Secretary of War Stanton. He has required poor General Banks to prepare official reports of his battles with "Stonewall Jackson" in the Valley of Virginia. If the Inquisition is ever established in this country, we bespeak the post of chief torturer for Stanton.

Just think of the cold-blooded cruelty of forcing Banks to tell at this late day the tale of his disasters, forcing him to tear open those old wounds which were just beginning to heal.—We shall next have an order from the barbarous Secretary of War soliciting additional information from the Bottled Butler as to the glories of Big Bethel, Bermuda Hundreds and the fire ship.

REDUCTION OF FARE TO BALTIMORE.—The Old Line of Steamers from Norfolk,—the "old and well established" line—has reduced its fare to Baltimore to three dollars, in consequence of the competition for the travel introduced by the New Line. We hope both may keep up the competition ad infinitum, as the public will reap the benefit—because, the sooner one line succumbs, up goes the fare again, and the pockets of the travelling public are again made more largely to disgorge.

There is an aspostolic admonition which is worth whole volumes of heroic bravado. It is this: "Let your moderation be known to all men." And again: "If thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink." This is the morality of the Gospel. It is treason in the philosophy of war.

A Remarkable Case.

DISEASE IN WHICH THE LUNGS AND THROAT ARE INVOLVED.—Mrs. Phebe Perkinson, Petersburg, Va., (Aug. 26, 1855,) says: "I hereby certify, that two years ago last June, I was afflicted with a disease commonly called the Breast Complaint, the pain and weakness in the breast continued to increase so that I could not bear my clothes fastened on me, for the space of two years; I found great difficulty in breathing; a general debility prevailed over my whole system—so much so, that I could not walk up the steps without drawing myself up by the banister; had a continued hacking cough, which distressed me greatly, four times during my illness had Hemorrhage of the Lungs. All medical treatment failed to afford me relief; it was the opinion of my friends that I must die with the consumption; I was advised to use the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS; after using three boxes, strictly according to directions, I find myself in the enjoyment of perfect health; I have a good appetite, have become as fleshy as I ever was, sleep sound and pleasant, and can perform any duty with as much strength and vigor as I ever did. They certainly have acted like a perfect charm on me."

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract o Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayers Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

THERE IS NOT A MORE DESIRABLE STOCK OF NEW SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

Comprising a general assortment, than those we have just purchased in the Northern Cities, and now offer to our customers and the public. None can understand and live by selling goods. It is gratifying to know that our taste and judgment in selecting goods, are appreciated, as shown not only by expression, that our goods are not surpassed in style and beauty, but by the way we sell them.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. N. case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $5000, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pangs of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,183,339 57; total disbursements $527,805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,455,234 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.
